Tank the Jumbo of Army Maneuvering in Moving Big Guns to New Positions

The big war tank is the elephant of army maneuvering. It is the only vehicle in moving heavy loads, and has earned the title without any competition. The tank is an animal which just received from the western front, showing the tank driving a heavy load to a new position. Note that the gun is artistically camouflaged by a net of leaves. Our batteries and allies are taking many such guns to commanding positions and are ready if the time starts to long threatened offensive.

BETTY JANE'S GAS MASK IS A FLUFFY-FLUFF VEIL OF TULLE

Betty Jane selects two models of rough straw for street wear, then with thoughts of a veil turns to the fluffy fluff of a black tulle hat, swathed in a long tulle veil that lends no end of charm when draped around her shoulders. It also covers all the face but the eyes. It is her attempt to imitate Sammy with his gas mask.

The two black straws, the upper has a high crown which breathes of "the old sod." Below, the semi-poke model carrying a pom-pom to the top and rear of the crown which completes a cutie angle. It is of isere straw.

Just a Short Time in which to Buy Good Clothes at Present Prices

The time is so short now that no man can afford to delay a single day. Wise men—far-sighted men—men of keen judgment—are taking advantage of the opportunity to make an extra saving by buying their clothes before the advance in price.

Manufacturers' quotations for fall 1918, are sky high; the wool situation is proving more critical.

Fortunately, my stock of high class clothes for men and boys, is the largest ever had, and all purchased before the prices soared to their present height. Take a tip, buy your clothes now, whether you buy here or elsewhere.

Orchard Information

PROTECT YOUNG FRUIT TREES

Snow Should Be Firmly Packed to Prevent Girdling by Rabbits and Field Mice.

The one and two-year old fruit trees, should have the snow firmly packed around each tree, grapevine, currant and gooseberry bush. Unless this is done, the trees may be girdled by rabbits above the snow line and the field mice under the snow.

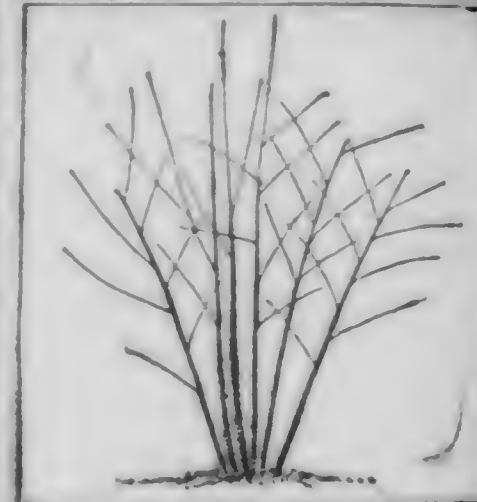

Much the better method is to have each tree and bush wrapped with a strip of tarred paper from six inches below the surface of the ground to 20 inches above the ground. Common brown paper may be used if the better quality cannot be had. It takes but a few minutes to wrap each tree.

Where the winters are severe and the snow deep, the tender bark of the large fruiting trees is often gnawed. The trunk of the tree and often the branches have the greater part of the bark completely destroyed. Field mice are more destructive than the rabbits, as they work under the snow and are much more numerous.

TIME TO PRUNE RASPBERRIES

Work Must Be Done at Two Seasons of Year in Order to Accomplish the Best Results.

Because of its habit of fruit bearing the black raspberry requires care in its annual pruning; in fact, pruning must be done at two seasons of the year in order to accomplish the best results. The young shoots as they appear from the roots in the spring should be tipped or disbudded when they reach the height of 18 inches. It is better to go over the plantations frequently, making three or four trips in all, in order to tip the canes when they are about the height mentioned, rather than to delay the operation until some of them have reached a height of 2 to 2 1/2 feet. The early pinching or disbudding induces the development of more numerous lateral branches. Shoots which have been allowed to harden and to grow to 2 or 3 feet in height will form few lateral branches. If tipped when 18 inches high, a cane should produce four, five or six lateral branches. If allowed to attain a height of 3 feet and then cut back to 18 inches, it is probable that not more than two or three lateral branches will be formed; and, since these lateral branches form the fruit-bearing wood of the succeeding season. It is very desirable that the greatest possible number of branches be secured to insure a heavy crop of fruit. It is evident, therefore, that summer pruning predetermines the crop for the succeeding year more than does any other single cultural factor.

The second pruning, which is also important, consists in removing the canes which bore the last crop of fruit. This work can be done at any time after the crop has been harvested, but preferably during the spring following the crop.

DISEASES OF PEACH TREES

Brown Rot and Scab Held Fairly Well in Check by Use of Lime-Sulphur Spray.

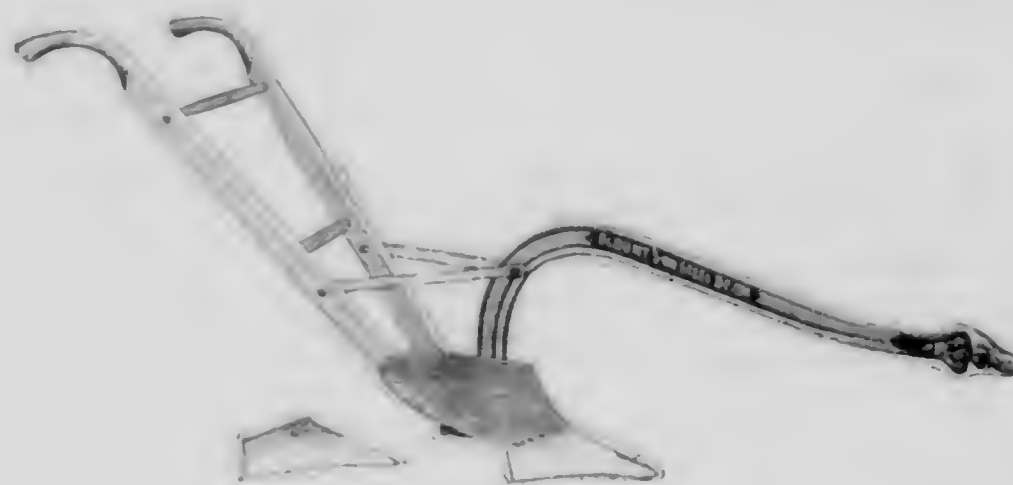

Brown rot and scab in peaches have been fairly well held in check in New Jersey by the use of the self-boiled lime-sulphur spray, but the best possible results have not always been obtained because the spray injured the trees in summer, so that growers put off the summer application. Now they have worked out a new preparation which has given satisfaction as a summer fungicide without injuring the trees. It is made by mixing eight pounds of fine dry sulphur with four pounds hydrated lime, dissolving one and one-half ounces of ground glue in three gallons of water, then thoroughly incorporating the two mixtures and diluting the whole with water to make 50 gallons.

RABBIT DAMAGE IN ORCHARD

Given Credit for More Harm Than They Are Guilty of as Rule—Mice Do Most Injury.

Rabbits usually do less damage in orchards than they are credited with. In very young orchards or in nurseries they sometimes cut off the young branches and may occasionally gnaw the bark, but as a rule they do less damage than mice.

WHY THIS OUT FLOW OF LABOR AT HICKMAN?

For the last two or three seasons there has been an almost constant outflow of people leaving Hickman. The reason for this has been the fact that the soil is so fertile that it has been able to produce crops to various parts of Missouri, Tennessee, and Central Kentucky, while the farm wagons are taking them to various farms in the east and adjoining counties of Kentucky and Tennessee. The latter course is tolerable but the former should be stopped.

Laborers have been leaving this part of the country for some four or five years and this year will see a greater shortage than ever. This is due to the fact that the soil is so fertile that it has been able to produce crops to various parts of Missouri, Tennessee, and Central Kentucky, while the farm wagons are taking them to various farms in the east and adjoining counties of Kentucky and Tennessee. The latter course is tolerable but the former should be stopped.

The farmer has about doubled his wage since, whereas the public work pays about 10 per cent more than it did a year ago. A man has an offer of $1.25 a day and board on the farm against $1.00 a day and board himself; or he has an offer of $1.50 or $2.00 a day, house, garden and maybe a cow furnished, against the same in the public works and him pay high house rent, buy milk and butter and not a sufficient garden spot to accommodate a rabbit. The fact is that public work here is not paying near enough. A man and his son who barely made fifty dollars a month here are now in St. Louis drawing forty-five dollars a week. They were with Hickman of fens.

The employers should consider this great loss of laborers and remedy the matter by an immediate increase in wages of about 10 to 15 per cent.

At Last, We've Got It For Hickman

You have seen so much in the papers lately about the marvelous benefits received by the sick and suffering of Kentucky and other States by the use of the noted all-vegetable prescription known as VIN HEPATICA. (Pronounced VIN-HE-PAT-I-KA)

We have at last been able to induce the owners of this remarkable prescription to let us have the exclusive sale of it in this community. And now we have it.

We went after this great nature prescription VIN HEPATICA because we know what it will do in cases of catarrh and indigestion, biliousness, headache, sleeplessness, nervousness, weak and run down condition and other ailments arising from a disordered stomach, liver, kidneys or bowels. Some of the most noted medical experts in this country have pronounced VIN HEPATICA a medicine of the highest merit.

The prescription is composed of eight of the finest herbal remedies known to medical science—remedies that have been prescribed by the medical profession for centuries. We stand right back of it with all our years of reputation for the handling of reliable medicines. We recommend only what we know to be good. We know that VIN HEPATICA is thoroughly reliable and so we recommend it.

VIN HEPATICA will start your torpid liver to work; relieve your indigestion; regulate your bowels; correct your disordered kidneys; soothe your aching back; renew your appetite; cleanse and tone up your entire system, and strengthen your vitality against the taking of colds, catarrh and other maladies so prevalent this time of the year.

It is the UNIVERSAL prescription for the restoring of health and the renewing of vitality. Come in and get a bottle and take it on our recommendation. It is pronounced VIN HE-PAT-I-KA.

WORTH $1,000 A BOTTLE IS VALUE CHATTANOOGA MAN PLACES ON VIN HEPATICA

(Reprint from Chattanooga News)

"I wouldn't take $1,000 for what one bottle of Vin Hepatica has done for me," says Mr. L. A. Campbell, aged 75, coal worker at Miller station, Chattanooga, Tenn.

"It is worth $1,000 a bottle. I have been troubled with kidneys for years, catarrh of the head and stomach. After eating a few lines my stomach would swell up like a pumpkin. I had the cramps, was dizzy, had to be up almost every hour of the night on account of the condition of my bowels.

"But Vin Hepatica has changed all that. I don't have to get up at all in the night. I now eat potatoes, beans, onions—anything I had almost decided I could not nor would not live another week, but after I saw in the papers what Vin Hepatica has done for others in the same line, I thought I would try it and now feel better than I have felt in 40 years.

"I have passed my 75th year and I could not have held up much longer the way I was feeling. But Vin Hepatica was certainly a lifesaver to me, and I feeling compelled to tell my friends."

The fact is Vin Hepatica is a Nature medicine and not a patent medicine. It is a combination of eight of the finest herbal remedies known to medical science, remedies which are prescribed nearly every day by the leading physicians of the world and they are all combined into one great Nature medicine for the kidneys, liver, stomach and bowels, and for toning up the system.

Strange Case of Three Year Old Childlettsville Girl That Had Baffled Skill of the Best Physicians.

(Reprint from Nashville Banner.) "While the physicians did every thing to save our little girl," said Mr. S. J. Watkins, of Goodlettsville, Tenn., "they could do her no good, as she was so weak, and finally said she could not get well."

"As a last resort one physician advised me to give her Vin Hepatica. I did and she took five bottles. She is now entirely well, sleeps well, and is growing in strength every day. No one knows how grateful we feel to this physician for suggesting the use of Vin Hepatica. It is simply wonderful what it has done for her. It saved her life."

Physicians are prescribing Vin Hepatica for the reason that it is a real medicine and not a patent medicine. They know what it is. They know it is composed of eight of the finest herbal remedies known to the medical profession.

RESIGNS AS CHIEF CLERK.

Rev. W. F. Remmenberg has tendered his resignation as chief clerk
to the Local Exemption Board, after several months of efficient and pains-taking service. His steps down and out on account of having many other duties which require his attention. Mrs. T. R. Powell, clerk in the county judge's office and who has had considerable experience in handling the draft work, will likely take Rev. Remmenberg's place.

Judge E. J. Stahr left Tuesday for Frankfort and Louisville on business. Sheriff Bailey Huddleston was sworn in as county judge pro
tem in the absence of Judge Stahr.

FRENCH MAKE HUN WAR PRISONER EARN HIS SALT IN CARING FOR WOUNDED SOLDIERS

Making the Hun help care for those wounded by the Kaiser but not by the French. Here is a late picture from the front showing the humanitarian efforts of the French in caring for the wounded of the Hun. The French are making the Hun help care for the wounded
of the Kaiser but not by the French.
The French are making the Hun help care for the wounded of the Kaiser
but not by the French.

As to what happened the Samples will be up at our prisoners and both announced as yet
by the way of a statement, but it is a certainty that the United States can profit by France's experience.
The Germans are here again
to be made prisoners too, when their leader, "Black Jack" Pershing, gives the word.

CITY CEMETERY FINANCES.

The city council has authorized to look into the financial workings of the city cemetery, and a committee has been appointed to investigate and make a report. While the city cemetery is a public institution,
it is a source of considerable revenue,
and it is the duty of the council to see that it is properly managed.
